RE: North East Mobile Health Services Considers Alternate Site

North East Mobile Health Services announced today it has released the Town of Camden from negotiating exclusively with North East for the possible purchase of the Tannery site. North East stated that it plans to pursue another location.

North East Mobile Health Services informed Town officials that they were presented with an alternate location that it wished to consider. The location includes sufficient space and a building on site that could meet North East's needs.

North East's President Dennis Brockway said the company's focus has always been on finding a location that is strategically located to best serve the people in the four-town community that comprises its primary service area.

"North East Mobile Health is thankful to the Town of Camden for working with us on our site search," Brockway stated, "and we appreciate the warm response we have received since becoming the area's designated emergency medical services provider."
